What does IIMA do?

We communicate with stakeholders at industry level to further the interests of our members and ensure the right messages are heard. We:

- Promote ore-based metallics as value-adding feedstock for the steel and ferrous casting industries and as enablers of steel recycling and the circular economy
- Identify and address threats to and opportunities for the industry
- Provide a forum for exchange of ideas at the scientific and technical levels
- Provide regulatory support

Producers, Traders and Distributors of merchant pig iron, hot briquetted iron, direct reduced iron and related materials

Companies associated with the ore-based metallics industry, but not as Producers, Traders or Distributors

- consumers of ore-based metallics
- technology and equipment suppliers
- iron ore producers
- shipping and logistics providers
- providers of consultancy services
- metallics project developer

Individuals who have contributed significantly to the industry
